

Tanya Brown

I have only been studying English literature for a month, but already I feel fully immersed in the course and I am prepared to take a bigger role within the Council of Schools. My commitment is to improving the liberal arts courses offered in Cambridge to better meet the needs of students whilst sustaining the interest that students have in these courses and making them more stimulating. Although I have experience in running societies, being the debating society student leader at secondary school, I have little experience in representing students, but it is a challenge that I am ready to take on. If you want a representative who will take you seriously and will be prepared to listen to your thoughts regarding the humanities, then vote for Tanya Brown.
