

Statement for voters

Hello, I'm Poppy Kemp and a first year lawyer. As Student Undergraduate Representative to the Council of the School of Humanities and Social Sciences, I will strive to ensure that students' concerns about work-life balance are raised, there is adequate allocation of funding for students of all levels and that a high level of teaching and lecturing is maintained across the School. As former vice-captain of my school, a lead academic prefect and school councilor, I am incredibly experienced in bringing pupils' concerns and demands to staff and ensuring real change is met. In particular, I was a key figure behind a large overhaul of my school's pastoral system, leading to a greater emphasis on wellbeing through implementing a student buddy scheme and furthering mental health provision. Having also been a tutor and mentor to students from eight to adulthood, I possess strong communicative skills and will willingly engage with students from across all years to ensure their particular demands are met.

A vote for me will ensure the student voice is properly heard and that real change is achieved.
